Wu's Forces Surround Peking

Chang's Army Scattered

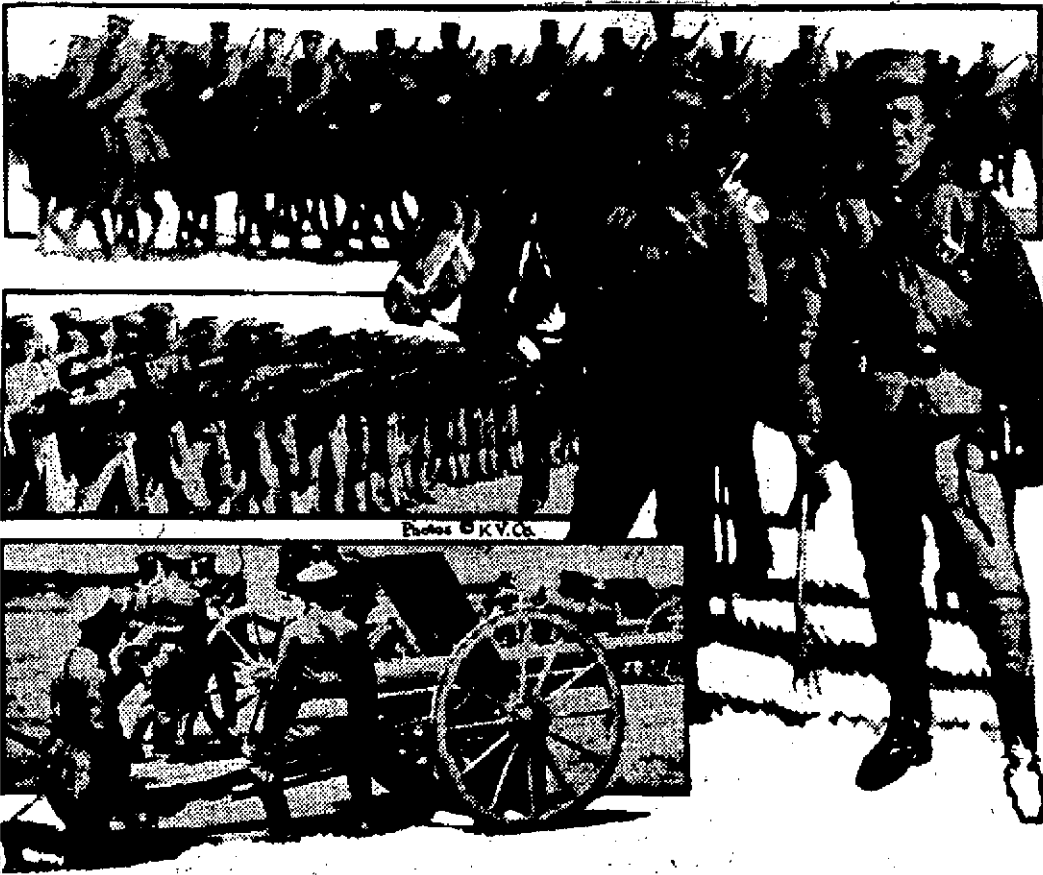

PEKING, May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—The troops of General Wu Pei-fu, the central Chinese commander, have surrounded Peking. General Chang Tso-Lin's army in the vicinity of Peking has been scattered. All railroad traffic out of Peking has been suspended. These developments followed the dispatch of eight train loads of Chang Tso-Lin's soldiers eastward. (In the direction of Tientsin.) Admiral Strauss, commander of the American Asiatic fleet, has arranged to leave Peking for Tientsin in an automobile. American official telegrams state that the Chi Li forces after turning General Chang's right flank and defeating him at Changshien, recaptured Machang, the middle front. The debacle of the Mukden general's troops at Changshien appeared to be complete, it was added.

PEKING, May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—General Wu Pei-fu, the central Chinese leader, brilliantly turned the right flank of General Chang Tso-Lin's army, last evening, according to today's advices from the front. Chang's troops are now in retreat towards Fengtai from Changshien.

PEKING, May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Acting Premier Chow Tsi-chi has sent Roy Anderson, an American, to Fengtai to negotiate with General Wu Pei-fu's commanders regarding their relations with the Peking government, it was announced this afternoon.

PEKING, May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—General Wu Pei-fu's forces were driven five miles further from Peking today in an attack on

ROW ON IN HOOSIER G. O. P. RANKS; WATSON MEN DENY KNIFING NEW

INDIANAPOLIS, May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Additional precincts received late today from Tuesday's primary in the senatorial race only served to increase the lead of Albert J. Beveridge, former senator, over Harry S. New, incumbent. For the last 24 hours, Mr. Beveridge has been making slow but sure gains and with 3,282 out of 3,382 precincts in the state (taunted, he had reached the highest majority that he had had at any time, namely, 18,768. The vote for these precincts stood: Beveridge, 187,421; New, 108,653.

Late last night Senator New conceded the election of his opponent and Mr. Beveridge issued a statement announcing that the "factions and feuds were buried forever in Indiana."

All of the Republican congressional incumbents who were contending for re-election were victorious.

In the Democratic congressional camp eleven of the thirteen districts have been decided, but meagre returns made slow by the exceptionally large ballot, made the results of the two districts still uncertain.

In the wake of Beveridge's victory much gossip developed in Republican circles forecasting a re-alignment of forces within the party. The defeat of Senator New generally was regarded as favoring an increase of power in Republican politics for Senator James E. Watson, Mr. New's mate in congress. Some lieutenants in the New organization complained that the Watson forces knifed Senator New, asserting that the chief work of the Watson followers in the primary was directed to gain votes for their own state organization. Followers of Senator Watson, however, denied these assertions, declaring they did all within their power for Senator New and as an explanation for the New defeat attributed it to discontent among farmers and workers. Senator New failed to carry several cities by the big majorities that had been predicted for him during the campaign and the unemployment situation was regarded by political leaders as having hurt Mr. New, who asked re-election as an endorsement of the Harding administration. McCumber Bonus Plan To Be Submitted To President

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Chairman McCumber, of the senate finance committee, was authorized formally today by the majority of that committee to present his soldiers' bonus plan, with the bank loan provision, to President Harding as the committee plan.

Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, however, informed the committee that he also would lay before the president his bonus plan, which contemplates a 20-years' endowment life insurance plan without any specific provisions for loans to be made to veterans.

Father's Fuzzy Night Shirt, Suspenders, Sleeveholders, Rubbers Are Coming Back

CHICAGO, May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Father's night shirt—perhaps even the fuzzy one with the pink stripes and the split at each side of the tail—is coming back, and along with it suspenders, sleeveholders and rubbers, solid, square-toed, conspicuous rubbers. This forecast of an age of innocence in men's fashions for the coming year was heralded today by the United National Clothiers, holding its sixteenth semi-annual convention here.

Just when the old night garment had been all but routed by the roguish pajama and was relegated to the shelf with such vanishing institutions as "my last quart" came the renaissance. It is said father would hardly recognize the thing, for it is all dolled up. They call it the "trouserless pajama." It comes double-breasted all the way down to the shins—the coat shirt idea carried further. It has double rows of frog fasteners, is called especially smart in confused shades of heliotrope, elephant's breath gray, or pale lemon and frequently has a shawl collar of contrasting color and raglan sleeves.

As for the sleeve-supporters and garters both were displayed by the convening clothiers in soft tones of pink, blue and lavender. The up-to-the-minute dresser is expected to understand of course that either sleeveholders or suspenders should match the garters and that the brummeles must have sleeveholders and suspenders to match each shirt.

Miners' Families Evicted; Belongings Set Out In Road

UNIONTOWN, PA., May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—First evictions of striking miners and their families in the Fayette coke region, took place today at the mine of the A. Mend Coal & Coke Company, near here. A dozen families, it was reported to the county authorities, had been moved from company houses and their belongings set out in the road. This, it was stated, was the beginning of a movement by operating companies to reclaim houses now occupied by what they termed "undesirables."

VENTURA, CAL., May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Walking on the ocean in a pair of small foot boats was the feat of A. N. Sheldon, a rancher, before a crowd of 500.

SENT TO MOSCOW

GENOA, May 14.—(By The Associated Press)—The Soviet representatives here announced today that the terms of the allied note to Russia had been telegraphed to Moscow, says the Exchange Telegraph, which adds, "It is stated that possibly Premier Lenin will accept, demanding simultaneously full recognition."

WOMAN WINS THE NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS

CHICAGO, May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—It was indicated today after a check of official Cook county figures and the unofficial downstate figures of votes cast at the recent Illinois primary that Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck has won the Republican nomination for congress-man at large, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her father, William E. Mason. Her closest competitor is Stephen A. Day, of Evanston, and not John J. Brown, of Vandalia, as was thought from an earlier count.

DECLARING HIS INTENTION

They admitted, says the Exchange Telegraph correspondent, that they were considering various offers for oil concessions, which they said constituted for Russia a basis of future international policy and they were studying a plan to divide the Baku and Grozny fields into four or five zones, one of which the soviets would operate, granting concessions on the others to rival national groups such as the American, British, Belgian and French. This, however, the soviet delegates said, would be conditional upon de jure recognition and adequate financial help.

FIGHTING HALTED IN EFFORT TO UNITE FACTIONS

DUBLIN, May 4.—(By The A. P.)—A truce between the rival Irish Republican army forces has been declared, it was announced this afternoon.

The truce is operative from four o'clock this afternoon until four p. m., Monday, with a view to giving both sections of the army an immediate opportunity to discuss a basis for army unification.

The provisions of the truce are: Clause 1.—All operations except training and ordinary army routine will cease. Clause 2.—All penetrative operations will cease. Clause 3.—Both sections will co-operate to maintain order and prevent acts of aggression against persons or property. The document is signed by Owen O'Duffy and Rian Lynch, the chiefs of staff of the rival forces.

HUGE SOVIET PLOT BARED IN FRANCE

PARIS, May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Three arrests have been made and numerous others were momentarily expected this afternoon, in what the French police claim to be a vast organization for espionage of French armaments for the benefit of the Russian soviet government.

Daugherty Says Real People Behind Attacks In Senate Have Not Shown Their Hands

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Attorney General Daugherty, in a formal statement today, referring to charges made against him in the senate by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, in connection with the release from the Atlanta penitentiary in 1912, of Charles W. Morse, New York ship builder, declared, "the real people behind this movement, aside from the partisans interested, have not yet shown their hands or their heads."

Declaring his intention "if there is occasion for it," to publish letters written several years ago by President Taft and George W. Wickes, then attorney general, which he said, "conclusively answered all charges," Mr. Daugherty asserted that "when the facts are fully known, we would not expect even the persons now being used for purposes which they do not suspect to ever refer to the matter again."

Declaring that the identity and the motives of the individuals behind the "movement were well known," Mr. Daugherty said the activities of the department of justice naturally "will not be popular with persons who are being brought and will be brought to justice in due course."

No activities of the department will be inspired or conducted to help any political party, he added. "We

Knight Wants To Know Which Way Davis Is To Jump

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Representative Knight, Republican, Ohio, mentioned as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Ohio, issued a statement today saying he would not definitely decide whether to enter the contest until he knew what Governor Davis expected to do.

"Unless Governor Davis is out of the race, I will not enter it," said Mr. Knight, "and when I know what he is going to do, I shall very quickly decide what I will do."

Mr. Knight said, however, he was satisfied that Governor Davis "fully intends, at least at this time, to enter the race."

BRONNER SOLVES THE JEANNES MYSTERY!

EDITOR'S NOTE—Recently the cables carried a report that Armand Jeannes, the Belgian arch-traitor who was convicted and sentenced to death as a spy, had been guillotined. But the report lacked official confirmation, and mystery shrouded its origin, so NEA Service sent Milton Bronner to Belgium, to find out the truth. Bronner cables today that he has established that Jeannes has not been executed, but that he has been "buried alive"—put away in prison out of sight and reach of any but his jailers. Nor is there any likelihood that the man said to have betrayed Edith Cavell will go to the guillotine, for Belgium has not exercised the death penalty in 60 years. The law still stands, with legal revocation in the power of only King Albert. But neither executioner nor king will be asked to defy public sentiment—Armand Jeannes is just as much "dead and buried" as if the knife had fallen on his neck.

BELGIAN TRAITOR "BURIED ALIVE"

Betrayed, Betrayer and Belgian King

BY MILTON BRONNER (Special Cable to NEA Service, Copyright, 1932, by NEA Service.)

MONS. BELGIUM, May 4.—"Armand Jeannes is dead."

It was the commandant in charge of the gloomy brick-towered prison at Mons who told me this, when I inquired for the Belgian arch-traitor who sold his country to Germany for 25 pieces of silver.

I had learned positively that this renegade spy—believed by many to have been the betrayer of Edith Cavell, the heroic nurse who was executed in the war by a German firing squad—had not gone to the guillotine as reported, or committed suicide, or died a natural death.

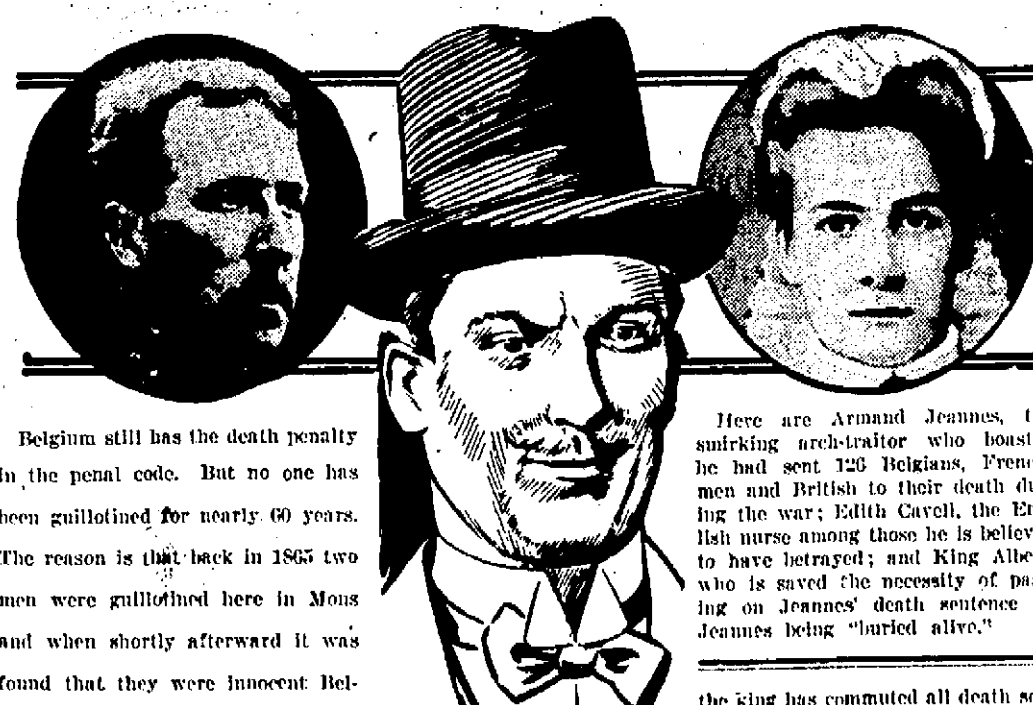

"Monsieur Commandant," I pressed my inquiries, "has Jeannes said anything since his conviction and death sentence which would clear up the mystery surrounding Edith Cavell's betrayal?"

"Dead men tell no tales," said the commandant. "Armand Jeannes is dead."

TRAITOR IS ACTUALLY BURIED ALIVE. It is death—a living death—that has befallen Armand Jeannes. He is buried alive!

Though sentenced to the guillotine, he probably will not feel the knife across his precious neck. Only a tidal wave of public sentiment can sweep him to the executioner.

But Jeannes is dead so far as the authorities are concerned. He is hidden away in Mons prison, and in prison he will probably remain the rest of his days, seen by no human being, and always in the shadow of the guillotine.

Here are Armand Jeannes, the swiftness arch-traitor who hoisted the red flag, Edith Cavell, the English nurse among those he is believed to have betrayed; and King Albert, who is saved the necessity of passing on Jeannes' death sentence by Jeannes being "buried alive."

Belgium still has the death penalty in the penal code. But no one has been guillotined for nearly 60 years. The reason is that back in 1867 two men were guillotined here in Mons and when shortly afterward it was found that they were innocent Belgium was so shocked that since then

Usually the law authorities sign a petition asking the king to commute death sentences. But in the arch-traitor's case they have refused. Meanwhile all Belgian, organizations of ex-soldiers are demanding Jeannes' execution, and the newspapers are carrying on a campaign for his death.

NO VISITOR IS ALLOWED TO SEE HIM. It is futile to try to see Jeannes. The prison authorities have reached the point where they do not even admit his existence! Thus they save both king and executioner from bearing the brunt of public sentiment.

This man of 33 originally sold his country for 25 francs a month. The Germans later increased his pay until he was getting 750 francs a month.

Jeannes disappeared when the German war machine collapsed, but fate played him a trick. When the fleeing Germans destroyed their documents, one heap in a barn near the Belgian frontier in northern France was overlooked.

In this mass of papers were found 200 reports made by Jeannes, together with his German police card, and letters from him to his German chief, Kirschenheim, in which he boasted of his exploits and asked for more money for his "faithful service."

Jeannes claimed he had caused the deaths of 126 Belgians, Frenchmen and British, including Miss Cavell. His trial was a sensation. At first he was contemptuous and defiant, but the evidence against him was so strong that his bravado soon vanished, even though no direct evidence was brought that he personally reported Miss Cavell to the German police.

the king has commuted all death sentences to life imprisonment.

Bigger Construction Projects Loom Up; Steel Prices Are Steadier And Stronger

CLEVELAND, OHIO, May 4.—The Iron Trade Review today said:

Stronger fundamental conditions more clearly are influencing the course of buying and selling in iron and steel. The real weight of the coal strike as a factor still is difficult to accurately gauge. Manifestly, it is not a primary cause of the continued movement of the industry toward a sounder basis of trade and operations. Producers, in fact, show less regard for the strike as a continuing obstacle in putting on new capacity which apparently is more insistently called for by the pressure of current demands.

The feeling grows that the critical period of the coal strike has been past and gradual improvement may be expected. The situation in the Cincinnati region this week shows some further gain in the number of men at work except in one district, and in shipments. The number of active furnaces at the end of April increased by 6 to 161 and the total pig iron output by 24,330 over March, despite the one day shorter operations. Total April production was 2,070, 238 tons compared with 2,036, 908 tons in March. Two more furnaces are going in this week and at least three others are slated to resume in the next two weeks.

Steel deliveries are falling back and in some lines now are a matter of 6 to 10 weeks. Prices are steadier and stronger.

The rising line of prices, as expressed by The Iron Trade Review composite market average of fourteen iron and steel products which this week is 54 cents a ton higher. The week's composite, $36.08 compares with an average of $34.42 for April, $32.07 for March and $32.51 for February.

Bigger construction projects continue to come up. Building awards of the week again were heavy and totaled more than 57,000 tons. For a gas holder 15,000 tons of plate have been placed with eastern mills. Portland, Ore., is preparing to let an 18,000-ton water line. New car orders total 9000, including 3150 for the Chicago & Northwestern, 3300 for the Pacific Fruit Express and 2000 for the Southern Pacific. The Pennsylvania is reported to be about to enter the market for a large purchase, variously reported as 15,000 to 30,000 cars.

The pig iron market has been featured by several sales of unusual size by large buyers. The United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry Co. closed for 50,000 tons of Alabama iron from the Ensley producer for southern plants. The American Radiator Co. placed 70,000 tons with a Buffalo producer.

That working conditions at the N. & W. When asked if more men would be employed the of-

Safes Recovered From Ruins

Wednesday the work of removing the safes of the Western Sun lodge of Masons and the Tomlin store from the ruins of the Wheelersburg Masonic Temple was completed, and when the Masonic safe was uncovered from under piles of bricks and burned timbers, it was found that the doors had been broken open and the contents destroyed. The safe was of a light sheet iron material and was crushed by bricks and heavy timbers and the door was probably opened in this manner.

The small steel safe that had been in Mr. Tomlin's dry goods store contained books and records and it was thought these would be saved, but when the door was broken off the safe Wednesday, the papers were found to be charred. A cash register safe also in the Tomlin store is still in the ruins and a mass of bricks and debris will have to be removed before it can be gotten out.

C. M. Tomlin, who was in Manchester when the fire destroyed his business, was located there Tuesday and he hurried home to find his well stocked store in ashes. He carried about $4,000 insurance, which covers the bigger part of his damage.

The officers seized the liquor, some ten gallons in all, and arrested Cole and brought him to the city jail.

Testifying in his own behalf Cole claimed that another man whose name he was unable to tell left the liquor there to be sold and that he was to get $50 for disposing of the fluid. A part of the liquor was found buried in sawdust and it was located by the officers through the use of pitchforks.

50 Crippled Children Reported To Club

Close to fifty crippled children have so far been reported to Rotary Club members who are working in the observance of Crippled Children's Week, which is being celebrated in every section of the state. The Rotary Club held a noon luncheon today at the Elks' club when committee chairmen made reports on their activities. The reports showed that about 50 crippled children had been located and that preliminary examinations had been made and records obtained so the children could be given an examination at the free clinic to be held at the Court House Monday all day. Chairman Arthur Bannan, who had been endeavoring to secure an out-of-town speaker for a public meeting Friday night, announced today that efforts to secure a speaker had failed and that no meeting would be held. Speakers in different cities were invited, but it was found that each one had other plans for Friday night and could not get here for a meeting. Anyone knowing of a crippled child in Portsmouth or Seoto county should notify a member of the Rotary Club or call Chairman Bannan on Home Phone 51.

Borah Says Millions Drawn From U. S. Treasury Did Not Go To Russia

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Rights of Boris Bakmeteff, last accredited Russian ambassador to the United States, to diplomatic privileges and immunity was discussed at length in the senate today by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who declared that in his opinion the state department "never had had credentials" properly accrediting Mr. Bakmeteff to the American government.

The Idaho senator said he had the credentials "if they exist" and added that it was "inconceivable" that a man can be ambassador without a government. Mr. Bakmeteff's government, he asserted, disappeared five years ago and none has taken its place so far as recognition by the United States is concerned.

The Idaho senator turned to the senate labor committee's investigation of the presence here of General Gregorie Semenovoff, Russian anti-Bolshevik leader, and the committee's attempt to subpoena Bakmeteff to testify, saying that he had been informed that Bakmeteff's statement could be gotten through the secretary of state as was usual with credentialed diplomats.

"But I refuse to do that," Senator Borah went on. "I refuse to do it for the reason that I refuse to recognize the perfectly fraudulent theory that he is an ambassador."

Sensor Borah reviewed at length the history of Bakmeteff's time here, his arrival under instructions "to proceed to Washington and await further instructions" and his recognition on July 5, 1917.

"And on the day following," said Senator Borah, "we find Bakmeteff got $38,000,000 from the treasury. On July 13, 1917, he got $10,000,000, and on August 25, he obtained $100,000,000. This last loan appeared to have been made as a result of a letter from Ambassador Francis, which the state department regarded as assurance that the Kerensky government was stable."

Sensor Borah said his investigation led him to believe that no part of the $187,000,000 received by Mr. Bakmeteff from the American government or the Russian people, Senators Pomeroy, Democrat, Ohio, and Smoot, Republican, Utah, said the money had been expended for purchases in this country for the Russian government in accordance with the purpose for which it was advanced. Evidence had been offered him, Mr. Borah retorted, that some portion of the fund had gone to purchase "property" in the United States. The Idaho senator said he had received a letter from the secretary of labor indicating that action would be taken if General Semenovoff, the Cossack leader, now detained in New York, prolonged his stay much longer in the United States.

Hearing Friday

John "Bull" Davis and his wife, Ida Davis who were arrested Wednesday by the police for investigation in connection with the theft of a tire from the automobile of Carl Schneider, engineer of the county surveyor's force, secured their release from the city jail Thursday afternoon on bond for their appearance in Municipal court Friday.

The evidence in possession of the police against the couple is purely circumstantial as the stolen tire was not found in their possession but was discovered in an alley in the vicinity of the Offshore street school a short time after Capt. Lee Startzman chased a man believed to have been Davis from the spot.

Allen Warned

Joseph Allen, 51, of 829 Mill street, was before the Municipal court Thursday to meet a complaint filed by Harry Ball, agent of the Humane Society, charging him with abusing his fourteen-year-old daughter, Beatrice, by unmercifully whipping her last Tuesday.

Allen admitted correcting the child for disobedience, but denied that he punished her to the extent complained of and the evidence of the child and others tended to support his story. The testimony did tend to show, however, that Allen was in the habit of cursing and abusing his wife in order to put the children in fear of him.

After hearing from both sides the court dismissed the complaint, but warned Allen to go to work and refrain from causing further trouble at home.

GROTTO MINSTREL TICKETS GOING FAST

That the minstrel to be given by day nights will be well patronized, is evidenced by the fact that tickets for the Grotto at the High school shown by the fact that tickets for the minstrel are going to be second to none ever given in this city. While no reports have been made, it is estimated that fully 1000 tickets have already been sold.

A rehearsal will be held at the Temple this evening, and according to those in charge, those who are to take part in the show are letter perfect, and it is practically certain there will not be the slightest hitch in the rendition of the program. The scenic effects will be in keeping with the high character of the program. A minstrel would not be a minstrel were there not a lot of fun and humor mixed therein, and with a pastmaster such as Henry Bertram assisting along this line, there will be plenty of laughs and applause.

The proceeds of the minstrel will be used in the purchase of new uniforms for the Grotto band, an organization that received the plaudits of the people in its first public appearance several weeks ago at the spring ceremonial, and one that is destined to rank high among the musical organizations of the state. The band, it is needless to add, will be well informed, for it is the intention of the Grotto to buy the best possible.

Tickets are to be reserved at the Brandon Book and Stationery store, Chillicothe street, beginning promptly at 3 p. m. Saturday. Reservations can be made for both Monday and Tuesday shows at that time. They may also be reserved on Monday morning at the same hour. Letters From Our Readers

Jackson, Ohio, May 3, 1922
Editor The Times,
Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Sir: My attention was forcibly called to an article in last night's Times, entitled, "Holy Rollers Dump Into Stern Arm Of The Law."

This article speaks in a highly improper manner of the activities of the Pentecostal church, and casts a shadow upon the membership of a church that is respected throughout the entire southern section of our fair land.

I gather from the article that some of the folks, with the pastor, sought, on Monday evening, to comply with Christ's command, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel," and by so doing, they violated some law of the city, for which they were taken to task by a policeman.

I know nothing of the circumstances of the unpleasant occurrence, but I do know that if these people acted in any improper manner, that they are the first ones within the domain of the church to do so, and are exceptions, and not the general rule. You are no doubt aware of the fact that extremists exist in every walk of life, and that the same rule applies to this case.

This condition cannot be avoided, although the founder of the church is even at this date seeking to establish and maintain a standard of morals and discipline that will be above reproach.

I presume that some person or persons must have conducted themselves unbecomingly, and if so, they deserve to be severely reprimanded, and I am confident that the matter will be carefully investigated, and those responsible taken to task.

I am a member of the same organization and know that any improper conduct is not tolerated by those in authority, and will be looked after.

If these people, as a small unit became unmanageable, is it fair to the innocent of such, that the fact be broadcasted over the land, in a manner to become a sweet morsel under the tongue of scandal mongers?

Their conduct, if unbecoming, or improper, most assuredly does not echo the sentiments of the church as a body, but is in direct opposition to the manual of discipline; while, on the other hand, if they simply became enthusiastic, or a little too noisy for the cultured ears of the extremely dignified, can any sane man or woman deny them the right to praise God, if same is only the release of their pent up emotions?

Students of the Scriptures will say that Christ ascended into heaven with a shout, and we read in "1 Thess. 4:16," "For the Lord Himself shall descend from heaven with a shout," therefore it would appear that Christ believes in a shout once in a while, so why should not His disciples make a little noise?

There are doubtless many churches, even in Portsmouth, whose members get "noisy" sometimes, but is the fact scattered over the whole state by every newspaper? No, it is carefully smothered, and smoothed over by those of silvery tongues, and the guilty person is made to feel that the world is one great big refrigerator to freeze out the old-time religion and make an iceberg out of the fiery Gospel of Christ.

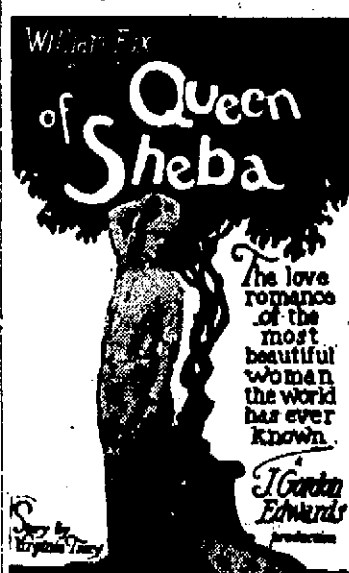

God pity the man or woman who claims to be "happy in the service of the King" and is too dignified to even speak above a whisper about it.

The world usually does not know their "holy religion" until it sees it in their obituary, and if a lot of them had their dues, they would have their obituary now, for many of them are as dead spiritually as the proverbial door nail.

Hoping you will publish this in justice to those who may be unjustly subjected to harsh criticism by reason of the article, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,

The Movies

William Fox Sending His Biggest Production to this City.

"Queen of Sheba," a William Fox super-special which enjoyed a sensational run on Broadway, New York, is looking for the Eastland Theatre, beginning next Monday. It is described as a stupendous spectacle and a great love story. New York critics hailed it as one of the greatest photodramas ever produced. It showed to crowded houses throughout the run, until taken off to make way for another of the Fox specials.

It is declared that the pageantry of "Queen of Sheba" is unsurpassed for magnificence on the screen, and that few such thrilling spectacles as the chariot race scene have been presented in motion pictures.

The filming of "Queen of Sheba" under the direction of J. Gordon Edwards took an entire year. Throughout the period a huge force of workers in many lines of endeavor was employed, and in addition every member of the Fox organization on the West Coast—actors, clerical workers, artisans and all—took a personal interest in the progress of the stupendous production and lent their aid to it. Tom Mix, for instance, volunteered his services in rendering the chariot race thoroughly realistic.

The construction of massive sets, the designing and making of the elaborate costumes, the perfecting of the dances, meant a vast deal of labor, and the production on the scale originally planned seemed insuperable. They were overcome, however, and "Queen of Sheba" given to the screen.

Betty Wylie appears in the role of the Queen, Fritz Lieber, the noted Shakespearean actor, is King Solomon, and Claire de Lorez is Queen Amarath, wife of Solomon.

A-Prizma Program
"The Little Match Girl" with Maudie Evans.
B—"One Moment Please," a new Wm. Fox Sunshine comedy.

C—Musical prologue of old home melodies—Eastland Orchestra.
G—Gasnier presents "The Call of Home."

The greatest flood scenes ever flashed upon the screen, the collapse of a huge slice dam and the narrowing experience of a man who sought to close the locks, are but a few of the big thrills that go to make "The Call of Home" a motion picture of matchless interest. Produced for R-C Pictures by the famous French director, L. J. Gasnier, "The Call of Home" unfolds a story of poignant heart interest, combining romance and adventure in sufficient portions to satisfy even the most exacting enthusiast.

The scenes of the flood were filmed in the Colorado river region where that stream overran its banks, causing widespread destruction. This enabled Mr. Gasnier to film scenes that are notable for their great realism. The flood scenes were filmed at great risk to the lives of several members of the cast. In particular Ramsey Wallace, who portrays the role of the husband, Gerry Lansing, Wallace's life hung in the balance when he was flung off a big dam as the structure went to pieces before the onrush of thousands upon thousands of tons of water. He pitched headlong into the torrent and was borne downstream half a mile before he was pulled out more dead than alive.

Of still greater dramatic tension is the havoc wrought by the raging waters as they engulf a small village and crush the cabins and other structures that rise in the path of the flood. The fleeing natives who seek shelter in the highlands also lend a note of dramatic suspense as they snatch up their belongings and scurry to safety.

A big cast appears, including Irene Rich, Ramsey Wallace, Leon Barry, Margaret Mann, Johnny Ralston, Genevieve Milin, Wadsworth Harrie, James O. Barrows, Carl Stockdale, Emmett King, Norma Nichols, Sidney Franklin and Harry Lonsdale.

COUNCIL REFUSES TO SUSPEND RULES ON HOSPITAL BOND ISSUE

Herrick in Auto Crash
PARIS—Myron T. Herrick escaped injury when another auto crashed into his machine.

Must Get Second And Third Readings; Petition Presented To Extend Local Market

Respected hospital bond proposition was the big business before council at its regular meeting Wednesday night and when the ordinance to authorize a bond issue in the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of providing funds to build an addition and remodel the institution was thrown in the legislative hopper it was met with some stiff opposition.

The measure was a bit dilapidated when it came out of the mill as it lost when it came to a vote to suspend the rules, but is still in the running and its backers claim that it will go over when it comes to the second and third readings.

Here is how they voted:
For suspension of rules—Charles Herrick, Joseph Kuntz, Charles Whitt and Edward Westphal—4.
Against suspension of the rules—James Deiner, Joseph Deiner, Miss Emma Cramer, George Osborn and Floyd Unger.

The chair announced that the motion was lost and the ordinance was passed over for its second reading at some future time.

Member George M. Osborn, chairman of the finance committee, led the successful onslaught against the ordinance, voicing a protest that the question was of too much importance to be disposed of hastily under a suspension of the rules and he made a demand for more information on the subject. He declared that he was not sufficiently informed to vote intelligently on the measure and requested to be enlightened, asserting that he proposed to vote against the proposition until the data was furnished.

Judge Osborn, in making his demand for more information read from typewritten manuscript setting forth the matters on which he desired to be enlightened and he also cited figures showing the cost of operating municipal hospitals in other Ohio cities in the way of comparison.

Judge Wants Information
"In the matter of the proposed bond issue for Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000.00) to enlarge and improve the City Hospital.

In order that I may be reasonably informed to vote intelligently upon the proposed legislation, I respectfully request the advocates of this improvement to furnish me with the following information:

1.—Summarized reports on the Portsmouth City Hospital for each of the past ten (10) years, 1912-21, inclusive showing, Receipts, Taxes, Private patients, other sources and disbursements.
2.—Summarized report, the same as Portsmouth, for each year for the past five (5) years for the following cities of Ohio having municipally owned hospitals: Dayton, Springfield, East Liverpool, Akron, Findlay, Hamilton and Toledo.

Also for the following cities having no municipally owned hospital but in which tax monies are paid to trustees of private hospitals for free service to persons who are unable to pay, to-wit: Lima, Zanesville, Sandusky and Lorain.

Quotes Comparisons
The Judge also presented the last available copy of the Ohio Comparative Statistics for the year 1919 showing the cost per capita of maintaining municipal owned hospitals of or near the population of Portsmouth. The Judge caused merriment when he said "That figures will not lie but oftentimes they are difficult to explain."

Mayor Wants Meeting

After the vote was taken, Mayor William N. Gableman called attention of Council to the necessity for the immediate making up of the budget for next year and suggested that a special meeting be held soon in order that the budget problems might be worked out. He stated that it would be necessary to have a bond issue of $5000 to $7,500 for needed improvements at the hospital in the event that the addition is not built. Judge Osborn held to his original demand that the information requested should be supplied and it must be furnished before he would be ready to take any action in the matter.

Special Meeting Probable

The matter of calling a special meeting for further consideration of the addition proposition was left just where it started, no action being taken. Mayor Gableman, however, indicated that it was his intention to call a special meeting of the council for next Monday evening, when the proposed hospital bond ordinance will again be taken up for its second reading and will probably be disposed of at that time. The Mayor stated that he wanted it settled one way or the other so the budget could be made up.

Would Extend Market

A petition was received signed by Simon Labold and other property owners requesting the permission to place market stands on both sides of the esplanade and on the South side of Gallia street bordering the First National bank building and extending to the Royal Savings and Loan building. It was stated in the petition that the market people would employ a traffic officer to keep the streets closed so as to avoid accidents. The petition was referred to the service department.

A petition signed by David Sampson and fourteen others requested a sewer be constructed from Poplar street to the city limits and also another signed by Charles Brunner and four other property owners asking for a sewer to carry off storm waters. Both petitions were referred to the street committee.

To Install Warning Bell

A communication was received from H. C. Weller superintendent of the N. & W. railroad, notifying council that his company was prepared to install a warning bell at the Fourteenth street crossing but advised that the cost of employing watchmen at four other street crossings was so great that the officials rejected the request. He stated that it would cost the company $8,340 per annum to maintain these watchmen. The communication was referred from Dr. G. L. Locke, representing the company.

A communication was received from Dr. L. G. Locke, representing the Community Service, asking that a ward for the treatment of venereal diseases be included in the hospital addition arrangements. Referred to committee on hospital.

Street Estimates

On report of City Engineer Wilhelm of estimates for resurfacing Second street from Chillicothe to Waller, and Gallia street from Chillicothe to Waller, legislation was ordered prepared. The cost of the Second street improvement was estimated $15,735 and of Gallia street $17,978. The estimate to resurface Eleventh street at a cost of $29,300 was referred to the street committee.

The engineer also presented an estimate for paying an "L" on Dewey avenue at Hammon Place to cost $6,980.75 and to be of concrete. The estimate was referred to the street committee.

Authorize Certificates

A resolution was passed authorizing certificates of indebtedness for $10,000 be issued to provide the Safety Fund with means to pay the police department.

The sum of $300 was appropriated to pay the expense of a mandamus suit brought in Supreme court to test the validity of the $106,000 street improvement bond issue.

An appropriation of $400 was voted to construct a water main to the Carlyle-Labold and Harrison Walker brick plants to provide fire protection and $194 was voted to make improvements on the New-Martin property owned by the city.

An ordinance was passed to issue bonds in the sum of $5000 in anticipation of assessment for paving Fourth street from Offene to York Drive and a small stretch of Bertha avenue.

Give Right Of Way

A petition of property owners of Jackson street was presented by Councilman Horr giving the right of way for a sewer so as to not hold up the street improvement which is ready to proceed. Councilman Horr offered a vote of thanks to the donors for their public spirit displayed.

No Detention Home

The request that the city council establish a "Woman's Detention Home" was refused by the committee on Police, Fire and Markets to which it had been referred. Councilman Horr as chairman in the report submitted to council.

The report as submitted by Chairman Horr was as follows:

"We have given this petition careful consideration and are in full sympathy with the purpose of the petitioners, but are of the opinion that at the present time the financial condition of the city does not warrant the installation of the institution proposed by it. Recommendation was made to lay same on the table until financial conditions are more settled, which was done."

Ferry Improvement

Member Deiner stated that he and his colleagues of the Committee on Wharves had heard the complaints of Capt. W. F. Kimble and others interested in the improvement of the Market street ferry landing and that they would have a complete report to submit at the next meeting.

Engineer Wilhelm was instructed to use all available dirt from future street and alley improvements in backing up the flood wall near Union street where it is said to be weak. The engineer was also instructed to look up the data in connection with the contract under which this part of the wall was constructed with a view of ascertaining whether the city got what it bargained for in respect to proper filling back of the wall.

Want More Light

H. C. Lantz, Tom Brown and others composed a delegation from North Moreland who appeared and appealed for relief there in the way of more lights and better drainage. The delegation was told to put their wants in writing in the form of petitions.

Free License Refused Fair

Attorney Russell McCurdy, representing the Tribe of Ben Hur, presented a petition asking council to suspend the license fee for a street fair which the Tribe proposed to hold during the week of July 4 in an effort to raise funds necessary to entertain the state convention of the order which will be held in this city in September. He stated that the Tribe did not seek the convention but that Portsmouth was selected without consulting them and that they now face the situation of entertaining 500 delegates with practically no funds in their treasury, other projects to raise funds having resulted in total failure.

Member Horr opposed letting the bars down to every organization, stating that it was done in the case of the Spanish War Veterans solely because of the patriotic principle involved. He voiced the opinion that council ought to repeal the ordinance and abrogate the fee or new strictly to the line. A motion to refer the matter to a committee lost on roll call and a motion offered by Member Deiner to remit the license failed to receive a second and the proposition died there.

B. & O. Improvement

Member Osborn noted with pleasure that the B. & O. is making the long delayed improvement of Tenth street by filling in between its tracks and Member Westphal lobbied up with a query as to the status of the celebrated gas rate dispute which has been in the hands of the Ohio Industrial Commission for some months. The discussion resulted in the solicitor being directed to ask if there is any prospect of a decision soon.

Tearing Up Walks

Fire Chief Leedom called attention to the promiscuous tearing up of sidewalks about the city to install gasoline tanks, declaring that the walks and curbing were rarely ever restored to their former condition and he suggested that such work ought to be regulated. The matter was referred to the solicitor to investigate whether or not there is at present an ordinance in effect to take care of the situation.

The complainant declared her money disappeared while she was at the home of the accused, but the evidence failed to disclose more than a suspicion that the defendant took the cash.

Millard Houshell, 35, who was fined $100 for gun-toting and $200 for possessing liquor in Municipal court Tuesday, gained his release from custody Wednesday by paying up after Judge McCall dismissed the complaint charging him with assault upon a woman named Watson at the White Bear hotel. Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please suggest something to take ink out of a silk shirt? Also what will set the color in brown organdie? Dolly, this brown organdie has white raised dots in it. Would you advise me to wash it or have it cleaned and the cleaner? It is a good dress and I would not like to ruin it. Many thanks.
MRS. H. J. D.

Turpentine, milk and peroxide will remove ink stains. I believe I would have the organdie dress dry cleaned if I were you.

Dear Miss Dolly Wise—We are two girls and we are not very well acquainted in this town. We want to learn how to sing. Can you please tell us if there is a place in town where we can go to learn singing?
TIMES READER.

You might attend the Community Chorus rehearsals, or take private lessons from some of the vocal teachers here.

Dear Dolly—Is it all right for a boy to put his arm on the back of the seat when out riding with a girl?
I should say not. He should keep his hands on the wheel and his eye on the road if he wants to keep out of the ditch.

Dear Dolly—I am a young man of 20 and quite popular. I don't want to brag about myself or my popularity, but I mention this to let you know that I step out a bit. Really, Dolly, I am "setting party" with the girls and I think I am capable of offering them a little advice, a la Dolly, eh? I want to tell the girls that they should not consider themselves popular if they can have a date every night, especially with a different man. Any street walker can do that. Now Dolly, there are dozens of young girls, nice ones, mind you, who think they are slipping if they don't get a boy or man to lead them around some place every night. It never enters their head that the boys would think lots more of them if they would refuse dates once in a while and stay at home with their folks. They make themselves so common to be seen every place. Who wants a girl that any man can have a date with, anyhow? I don't want the fellows to say, "Well, I had her last night, or I will have her tomorrow night, etc." Perfectly nice girls are making themselves so common, I hope they will take this advice from a boy who gets around and knows. I am not saying this to be smart. I just want to do them a kind act, and I hope a few of them will appreciate it.
NICE YOUNG MAN.

Dear Dolly—Will you please print a recipe for whole wheat bread?
TIMES READER.

One cake compressed yeast, three level tablespoons of brown sugar, 1 1/2 cups lukewarm water, 1 1/2 cups scalded milk, three tablespoons melted lard, 7 1/2 cups whole wheat flour, one teaspoon salt. Dissolve the yeast and sugar in lukewarm liquid; add lard or butter; then flour, gradually, as whole wheat flour absorbs moisture slowly, and last the salt. Knead thoroughly, being sure to keep dough soft; place in well greased bowl, cover and set aside in warm place, to raise for about two hours.

Dear Dolly—I would like to have a place either as housekeeper or helping with housework. If you know of any place you can call me up. I am a young woman and willing to do any kind of work.

Dear Dolly—I am a young girl of 22 and have been going with a boy of 20 for five months. I think lots of him, but have never told him so. He has never said anything about love to me and I think it is best to let him broach the subject first. Do you think he loves me? He has never spoken of marriage. What do you think a fellow like that has in his mind, anyway?
ON THE ANXIOUS SEAT.

I can't answer for him, but I imagine that the only thing that is on your mind now is the question of "how to catch a husband." Five months is not long enough to know each other before getting married, and a boy of twenty is entirely too young to think of such a thing. He is the exception, if he is making enough money to support a wife, and he hasn't been working long enough to have very much saved up to furnish a house. You cannot count on his love. He may seem very serious for the time being, but his character is changing all the time. At the age of 25 he will have different tastes entirely. If I were you, I would value him as a friend only and not expect marriage. If you want a man right off the reel, go after an older man or widower. They generally mean business.

Dear Miss Wise—If a man threatened to jump in the river if you did not marry him, what would you do about it?
IN DOUBT.

If I did not want to marry him, I would let him go ahead and jump in the river. A man who hasn't any more sense than that needs to soak his head.

KITTY—You should not phone the young man. If he cares for you as much as you think he does he will "phone you again." It was a trifling matter that you refused to see him one time and such a thing would not stand in the course of true love. Do not take the initiative in your romance or you will surely lose the man. He is competent to do his own courting.

WOULD-BE YAMU—The men you mentioned deny that they are calling on a good looking widow, but several of them are willing to take their turns if you will just put them next and tell them who she is and how to get there.

The newly decorated dining room in the Elk Club rooms was the scene of a charming social affair last evening at six o'clock, when the girls of the Times-Sun office entertained with an elaborate three course dinner honoring Miss Adelaide Orlett, whose marriage to Mr. A. Sommer will be an interesting event of this month.

One long table was attractively arranged in the center of the dining room and tall wicker baskets of snapdragons and small rose-shaded lamps added to the beauty of the scene.

The table was especially beautiful in its decorations of roses and pansies, furnished by Florist Orin B. Oakes. A flat enamel table design filled with yellow and purple pansies and asparagus fern formed the centerpiece and two smaller designs of pink roses and greenery in taller designs added a charming color note. The three course menu, was faultlessly prepared and served by Mr. L. E. Dyke and his able assistants.

At the conclusion of the dinner, the charming bride-to-be was presented with an arm bouquet of pansies.

Fate had seen fit to mold the life of BARRY HUSTON into tragic molds. Tried for the murder of his cousin, TOM LANGDON, and acquitted because of favorable testimony of AGNES JERDON, Huston's father dies without regaining faith in his son. He leaves Barry timber holdings in Tabernacle only on condition that a high output be maintained. Mysterious accidents in the mill have prevented this and Huston, arriving from Boston, finds that he has been betrayed by his mill superintendent.

FRED THAYER, Huston discharges Thayer. First the mill is burned down and then Huston is deprived, by a forged lease, of the rights to his timber lands. With the aid of BASTISTE RENAUD, an eccentric French-Canadian, whose life has been saddened by the double tragedy of his son's death in France and the unsolved murder of his wife, Huston continues the fight. During his stay in Tabernacle, Huston has been attracted by MEDAINE ROBINETTE, owner of neighboring timber lands. He tells her that Thayer's statement that he was accused of murder is true.

Houston learns that Agnes Jerdon has told that she saw him kill Tom Langdon. Bastiste and Barry land a million dollar contract for cutting timber. Enroute to Chicago Barry overhears some interesting comment from an interne of a hospital.

Houston gets some conclusive evidence at the hospital that is procuring attorney "persecuted" him after knowing his direct innocent and with the knowledge hires Mittlelake to give him the machinery he needs and pay for it in installments.

The machinery is blocked on the way by a huge snowdrift and the entire region is forced to turn to the aid of snow-bound families.

Houston starts out in the early morning before Bastiste is up. He battles against the storm and finally comes to a cabin in which he finds Agnes Jerdon and her baby. The baby is dead, she unconscious. She makes him promise to carry it to a priest.

Medaine Robinette assists him to Crestline. They suffer many hardships and find no inhabitants at Crestline when they arrive there.

"I must go on. I gave my promise."

She nodded.

"It means Tolliver now. The descent is more dangerous."

Suddenly the storm lifted for a moment. Far below, miles in reality, straight jets of steam rose high above black, curling smoke; faintly, distantly, whistles sounded. The snowplows!

He gripped her arm with the sight of it, nor did she resist. Thrilled, enthralled, they watched it: a whirling smoke, the shooting steam, the white spray which indicated the grinding, unrelenting progress of the plow, propelled by the heavy engines behind. From the swollen lips of Houston:

"They've started the fight! I'm going to work with them."

"But—"

"No—she does not need me. My presence would mean nothing to her. I can't tell you why. My place is down there."

For an instant Medaine Robinette looked at him with frank questioning eyes, eyes which told that a question was arising as to his guilt in at least one of the things which circumstances had arrayed against him. But suddenly she was speaking, as though to divert her thoughts.

"We'll have about three hours. It's our chance. We'd better cut this cord—the one in the lead may fall and pull the other one over. We'd better make haste."

Houston stepped before her. A moment later they were edging their way down the declivity of what once had been a railroad track.

Black dots they became—dots which appeared late in the afternoon to the laboring crews of the snow-fighters for below; dots edging their way about beetling precipices, plunging themselves out of the heavier drifts, where drops of 10 and even 20 feet had thrown them. Once, at the edge of an overhanging ledge, he scrambled furiously, failed, and fell—to drop in a drift far below, to crawl painfully back to the waiting dot above. Hours! The dots grew larger. On they came, stumbling, reeling. The woman watered and fell; he caught her. Then double-weighted, a pack on his back, a form in his arms, he came on, his blood-red eyes searching almost sightlessly the faces of the waiting, stolid, grease-smeared men; his thick voice drooling over bloody lips:

"Somebody take her—get her into the bunk cars. She's given out. I'm all right. Take care of her. I've got to go on—to Tolliver!"

CHAPTER XIX

It was night when Barry Houston limped, muscles cramped and frust-numbed, into the little undertaking shop at Tolliver and deposited his tiny burden, Medaine Robinette had remained behind in the care of the show crews.

"Nameless," he said with an effort, when the lengthy details of certification were asked. "The mother—" and a necessary lie came to his lips—"became unconscious before she could tell me anything except that the baby had been baptized. She wanted a priest."

From far away came the whistles of locomotives, answering the signals of the snow-plows ahead. He remembered the bulky cars of machinery at Tolliver. It was partially his little battle here fighting out there. He fumbled aimlessly in his pockets for his gloves. Something tinkled on the floor and he bent to pick up the little crucifix, with its twisted, tangled chain, forgotten at Tolliver. Dully, lazily, he started at it with his red eyes, with the faint feeling of a duty neglected. Then:

"She only said they might want it," he mumbled. "I'm sorry—I should have remembered. I'm always failing—at something."

Then, anxious to take his place in the fighting line, he replaced the tiny bit of gold in his pocket and threaded his way through the circumspect crowd of snow.

Even from the distance, Barry could hear the surge of the terrific impact, as the rotary smashed against the tight-jammed contents of the shed, snarled and tore at its enemy, then, beaten at last by the crusted ice of the rails, came grinding back so that the crews might break the ice from the rails and give traction for another assault. Houston started forward, only to stop. A figure in the dim light of the cook car had caught his eye, Medaine Robinette.

If the woman back there in the west country only would tell! If she would only keep the promise which she had given him in her half-delirium!

Ten minutes later Barry stood beside a great Mallet engine, a sleek, grayhound of the mountains, taking instructions from the superintendent.

"Know anything about firing an engine?"

"I know enough to shovel coal—and I've got a strong pair of shoulders."

"When you get in there gas pockets, stick your nose in the hollow of your elbow. There isn't no fresh air in that there shed; the minute these engines get inside and start throwing in the fuel, it fills up with smoke. That's what gets you."

Barry climbed to his place on the engine. A whistle sounded to be ordered and rechecked by the answering blasts of the snowplow train—four engines and the big sugar itself—ready now for a fresh sally into the shed. The fires open, fire boxes throwing their red, spluttering glare against the black sky as firemen leaped to their task, the great mass of machinery moved forward.

Faster—faster—then—the impact, like crashing into a stone wall. They anger boring and tearing and snarling like some savage, vengeful thing against the solid mass which faced it.

Each inch for eight feet it progressed; then progress ceased, while the plow ahead shrilled the tripping signal to back up. The engineer opened the cab window and gratefully sucked in the fresh, clean air.

"Eight feet—that's all," he mused. "Eight feet at a time."

Back and forth—back and forth—fresh air and foul air—gleaming lights, then dense blackness—so the hours passed. Sully after sully the snowplow made. Men fell groveling, only to be dragged into the open air and resuscitated, then sent down once more into the cruelty of the fight. The hours dragged by like stricken things. Then—with dawn—the plow charged with lesser impact. It surged forward. Gray light broke through at the end of the tunnel. The grip of at least one snowshed was broken; but there remained

Jr. O. U. A. M. Homecoming Is Big Success

More than three hundred members of Jr. O. U. A. M. lodges in this section were in attendance at the big homecoming held last night by Portsmouth Council Jr. O. U. A. M. The homecoming proved to be one of the largest and best gatherings of Juniors ever held in this part of the state.

Junior lodges at Minford, South Webster, Stockdale, Buena Vista, Wakefield, Vanceburg and Ironton were well represented in the big crowd.

The main address of the evening was given by State Organizer W. A. Clark of Urbana. Mr. Clark, who has spoken here several times, gave an address on "The Busy Order." In his remarks he urged the local members to continue their good work in securing many additional new members and urged them to get busy and initiate many others who were members of the local organization. His address was followed by a talk by C. H. Groninger of the local order. Mr. Groninger told of the future plans of the organization and how he expected every member to do his share in building up Portsmouth Council.

Four applications were received and one candidate, Ben Allen, received the third degree work.

Following the degree work and program of talks, refreshments of cream and cake were served by the social committee.

It was announced that at next week's session there would be degree work in the first and second degrees and that a social for the public would be held on the night of the 11th.

The committee in charge of the homecoming plans and to whom much credit is due for the success of the affair, included Frank Schmidt, R. W. Quicker, Morris Thatcher, E. C. McFarland and George Meeks.

NURADIUM STOPS PAIN OF RHEUMATISM AND NEURITIS

The Influence Of This Remarkable Product Of Nature Is Entirely Supplanting The Use Of Drugs In Many Cases And With Marvelous Results

Except in those cases of extreme prostration the use of Nuradium in treating rheumatic and neuritic troubles is meeting with amazing results. In gout, arthritis, stiff joints, glandular swellings due to rheumatic infection, in the nerve attacks known as neuritis and in muscular and subcutaneous rheumatism the relief is often astounding. The improvement is little short of magical and it is more than likely there will be recoveries to amaze the world beyond any reports heretofore made for any internal medication.

Nuradium is a small one-grain tablet of milk sugar in which the infinitely small radium rays are caught. As they enter the circulation their marvelous, concentrated energy seems to stimulate the process of metabolism which means that in rheumatic afflictions the impurities, body wastes and irritants are dislodged. They are changed into products for easy elimination and are quickly passed out through the regular channels. Their places are taken by new and healthy material and thus pain and disease disappear.

Nuradium can now be had at $1.50 a bottle, of leading druggists and should be given a trial. Their tonic influence in nervousness, shakiness, trembling and the invalidism of old age is truly remarkable.

Nuradium can be had at most drug stores and is kept in stock by Geo. W. Freund, Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, Stewart's Drug Store. — Advertisement.

JACKSON PROUD OF UNIQUE RECORD

When John H. Jackson, Turkey building barber, worked on four generations of the Peebles family here, he thought he had attained a wonderful record, but Tuesday when he learned that the fifth generation of the family was in Portsmouth, he made plans at once to extend his record. Working on five generations in one family is a record that every barber cannot boast of and is one of which Mr. Jackson is very proud.

Years ago he worked on the late John G. Peebles, father of John Peebles of Second street. Then John Peebles went to Mr. Jackson to have his work done. The third generation was represented by Joseph Peebles, son of John Peebles. The fourth generation entered the barber shop and had Mr. Jackson get busy when Nancy, daughter of Joseph Peebles entered the shop and had Mr. Jackson cut her hair.

Mr. Jackson thought this was some record, but Tuesday when he learned that Mrs. Elmer Dover and daughter Mrs. Gerald Todd and little son, Gerald Jr., were visiting at the John Peebles home, Mr. Jackson hurried to see if the first representative of the fifth generation did not need his attention. Sure enough a hair cutting job was in order and plans were then made for Mr. Jackson to cut the hair of the little Gerald Todd Jr. The baby, the great great grand son of the late John G. Peebles, received the attention of Mr. Jackson yesterday afternoon and the well-known and popular barber then said that he had established a record he would challenge any to compete with.

That's why a Cortley Jr. suit never gives way before every part has given its normal maximum service.

Every suit represents a thorough working out of details—mohair lining, pocket edges double stitched, special non-ravel pocket facing.

The printed guarantee in the pocket of every Cortley Jr. suit is your assurance of satisfaction.

BELIEVE MACHINE WAS STOLEN HERE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 4.—Troopers James O'Brien and Dorey Smith of the West Virginia state police, played in the roles of detectives and recovered a twice-stolen automobile which belongs to the Lee Lumber company, of Portsmouth, O., it was reported here today.

Passing a garage, the troopers saw a badly damaged machine. Looking it over they found the serial number of the motor had been tampered with. Investigation showed the machine was one stolen from the Lee Lumber company.

The automobile was ordered held, but the garage was broken into and the machine was towed away. Search was instituted and the auto was found on a lonely road, C. E. Stockton, of Charleston, was arrested for alleged complicity in the theft.

The machine mentioned above was probably the Buick roadster stolen from R. E. Lukemire on January 12. Recently Charles Scudder, paid the insurance on the machine and today when informed of the finding of the car in Charleston said he would notify the insurance firm who would make every effort to recover the machine should it be the one on which the insurance claim was paid.

ARGUMENT OVER MOONSHINE LEADS TO MURDER

Landon Maynard Is Killed Near Russell; Gun User Missing

An argument over the alleged purchase of moonshine led to a fatal shooting on the Flatwoods road about half mile west of Russell, Ky., about 8:30 o'clock last night, when Landon Maynard, 23, single, was shot through the breast and almost instantly killed.

The Russell police are searching for Willard Thompson, about 20, single, who is alleged to have fired the shot that killed Maynard. The fatal shooting occurred in front of the Brown garage west of Russell. The Russell police secured most of their information from Frank Abrams, a lad of 16 who was looking at the Brown garage when the alleged quarrel started followed by the shooting and killing of Maynard who was a resident of Gray's Branch near Greenup.

According to the Russell police this morning Abrams has told several conflicting stories regarding the shooting and they are not certain just how it occurred. The lad's story last night was to the effect that Thompson was looking about the garage and was in front of it when Maynard drove up in an automobile and walking over to Thompson said he wanted to purchase some moonshine. The lad claims that Thompson replied, "You must think I am a bootlegger." The Abrams boy claims Maynard started cursing Thompson and struck at him with a bicycle pump. He claims he ran around the garage during the fight and that he had just left the sight of the fighters when two shots were fired. One bullet lodged in Maynard's breast and another in his hand. The wound in the breast caused death almost instantly.

The police searched last night for Thompson who lives in the Flatwoods community back of Russell but he was not found in his usual haunts. The Abrams boy claimed that Thompson ran away immediately and that he disappeared so quickly he did not know in which direction he went. Maynard's body is being prepared for burial at a Russell morgue and will be shipped to his home at Gray's Branch. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers. The family is well known in the vicinity of Greenup.

Beauty Secrets Revealed. Anna Q. Nilsson, the Popular Actress Tells How To Instantly Have A Beautiful Rosy-White Skin And Complexion

Los Angeles. "The secret of beauty is the proper care of the skin," says Miss Nilsson, the popular star. "It only requires a few moments time and any one is more than paid for the little effort it takes. In the first place the skin should be kept scrupulously clean. Use a good cleansing cream (Liska cold cream is splendid for this purpose.) Follow this by bathing the face with warm water then rinse with cold water and dry thoroughly with a coarse towel. After this apply dermivolo. It instantly beautifies the complexion and its continued use makes the results permanent."

Dermivolo takes the place of face powder, as it stays on better and is wonderful for a shiny nose, oily, dark, yellow skin, tan, wrinkles and other facial blemishes. Just make this test: Put dermivolo on one side of your face, then look in your mirror and compare it with the other side, you will need no further argument to convince you that nothing beautifies like dermivolo. It imparts a youthful appearance and if you would keep your complexion at its best all the time, make dermivolo a part of your toilet as you now do face powder and note the favorable comments of your friends.

There is nothing like dermivolo to beautify your hands and arms and to protect them from roughness and rudeness, which always follow exposure to sun, dust and wind. It is guaranteed absolutely harmless on the most delicate skin and will positively not stimulate or produce a growth of hair. Give it a thorough trial and you will never be without it. Accept no substitutes. As there is nothing "better," just as good, or "just like it," dermivolo comes in three shades, flesh, white and brunette.

NOTE—Ask your druggist about doing the will to and he will tell you that he has never seen any toll in this city including Flood & Blake and Stewart's Drug Store, and Stahler Drug Co.

How to Make Child-birth Easier!

Do YOU wish to know how thousands and thousands of women have gone thru motherhood without knowing some of the pains and discomforts incident to childbirth? Listen to this:

Motherhood creates almost a new state of being for a woman.

As a result, new nerves, those heretofore restful and quiescent, spring into activity, they cry out, they tingle, they burn in their unrest.

The network of nerves across the abdomen, the loins, the back and other parts now become super-sensitive. All these nerves are being called on to perform unusual duties.

These nerves must be pacified and comforted; must be put in condition for the crisis that is pending.

If these nerves are not soothed and quieted, they may set up aggravated nerve tension, increasing in severity from month to month, sometimes even culminating in a nervous paralysis of the back and limbs. This leaves the mother-to-be in a condition where she is unable, fully, to meet the test when the climax of maternity arrives.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

Woman Was Dancing Away In Stolen Dress; Police Appear; Admits Guilt; Hubby Pays

The woman hesitated and then looked down at the floor. Later she admitted the dress was stolen in the Fashion Store, Gallia and Gay streets. Manager Wm. Atlas, who was in the dance hall, identified the dress as being stolen from his store. The woman's husband paid for it and no arrest was made.

And on Wednesday another dress was stolen from The Fashion and Manager Atlas expects to locate this one soon.

Residents of New Boston have been discussing an unusual incident which occurred in one of their dance halls several nights ago. A married woman was dancing with her husband, and when the music stopped an officer walked over to the woman and said: "Where did you get that dress you have on?"

"Why I bought it from my sister-in-law and paid $3.50 for it."

"Are you sure of this?"

George Agnew Chamberlain's powerful novel, "Home," is a fascinating story in which tempestuous adventures and the quiet life of a quaint New England village are interwoven with indescribable charm.

Louis J. Gasnier, in making a picture from Chamberlain's book, has captured all its "homey" charm and made the most of its thrilling South American adventure episodes.

The hero's rescue from the madly rushing waters of a torrential flood is one of the most thrilling scenes ever shown upon a motion-picture screen.

How to Make Child-birth Easier!

Do YOU wish to know how thousands and thousands of women have gone thru motherhood without knowing some of the pains and discomforts incident to childbirth? Listen to this:

Motherhood creates almost a new state of being for a woman.

As a result, new nerves, those heretofore restful and quiescent, spring into activity, they cry out, they tingle, they burn in their unrest.

The network of nerves across the abdomen, the loins, the back and other parts now become super-sensitive. All these nerves are being called on to perform unusual duties.

These nerves must be pacified and comforted; must be put in condition for the crisis that is pending.

If these nerves are not soothed and quieted, they may set up aggravated nerve tension, increasing in severity from month to month, sometimes even culminating in a nervous paralysis of the back and limbs. This leaves the mother-to-be in a condition where she is unable, fully, to meet the test when the climax of maternity arrives.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

Cleaning Hint

When you're cleaning house sprinkle the clothes closets with a little water in which tobacco has been steeped and then sprinkle with a little spirits of camphor. The latter destroys the odor of the former and together they will prevent annoyance by moth.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 4.—Profit taking in some of the oils which featured yesterday's rise caused moderate fluctuations of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Standard Oil of California ended 1 1/2 points and the New Jersey issue reacted fractionally.

On the other hand, Mexican oils which did not participate in yesterday's movement, were firm, as were also Coudon, Houston and Producers and Refiners. Secondary markets extended their recent gains. Mack Trucks rising two points. Mercantile Marine pdf, American Woolen and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were higher fractions to one point. Ralls reflected moderate pressure, especially Chicago and Eastern Illinois, common and preferred.

Realizing sales among yesterday's strongest features became more general during the first hour. Leading domestic and foreign oils extended early losses and popular markets and independent stocks lost 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 points. Local fractions assumed leadership of the market for a time on publication of latest readjustment plans of the transit commission. Interborough Consolidated pdf, was heavy, but Brooklyn Rapid Transit increased its gain to four points and Third Avenue rose 1 1/2 points. Baptism

The first and most necessary sacrament is baptism. Baptism cleanses us from original sin, makes us Christian children of God and heirs of heaven. The outward sign is the application of water and the pronouncing of certain words. It was chosen by Christ. Go therefore, and teach all nations baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Matt. 28:19. Baptism confers grace which is lacking at birth. It makes one a child of God through adoption. It raises one to a supernatural state capable of seeing God face to face in heaven. It is the first way Christ's cleansing blood is applied to the soul. It is a spiritual birth through water and the Holy Ghost as Christ said to Nicodemus.

or the welfare of China and end the civil war.

President Hsu Seeks Peace

The telegrams called attention to three notes handed to the Chinese government by the foreign representatives here, protesting against the fighting in the vicinity of Peking and warning of the serious consequences to China should foreigners suffer from the hostilities.

As the diplomatic body has given three warnings to the government regarding the present war, the communication said, "the rival leaders should set aside their personal differences and strive to live up to the expectations of the powers. As both leaders favor unification of the north and south, they should suspend their war at once and discuss with the government the procedure of negotiations."

Need Money

The cabinet at its session also discussed the financial situation of the government. It was disclosed that the total resources of the Peking administration are now about 150,000 silver dollars monthly, a sum scarcely sufficient to pay the expenses of the city of Peking.

Owing to the hostilities, almost all the plans regarding China made at the Washington conference have been suspended. The Chinese official appointed to take over the British naval base at Wei-Pai-Wei has suggested postponement of the date of assumption, and the Chinese commission, which was expected to meet a similar Japanese body to arrange for the restitution of Shantung has also deferred the meeting.

Opposed To Fighting

Likewise, all the international commissions which were arranged at Washington to consider Chinese customs, the extra-territorial system and the withdrawal of foreign troops have suspended their plan to con-

Since the dawn of time communities that have risen to industrial prominence have anchored their future along the only source which promised transportation for their peoples and products. Flushing along the banks of rivers these prospects, they established factories, built commerce and erected homes with their constant need of public conveniences and as they grew to importance along these river banks unity of contact by either ferry or bridge followed.

STEPS ARE TAKEN TO CONTINUE THE INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE; WILL BE STRONGER THAN EVER

Plan To Open Season May 15 With Six Well Balanced Teams

IN THE Industrial Baseball League, barring unforeseen mishaps, is an assured go, and the season will open at the Seventeenth St. yards on Monday evening, May 15, at 6:15 o'clock.

This, in a lump sum, was the result of a meeting of those interested in the league held at the Times of Wednesday evening, a meeting that was chock full of enthusiasm and harmony. At the present writing the league will be composed of teams representing the Excelsior Shoe Co., N. & W. Railway Co., Union Last Co., Standard Supply Co., Central Labor Council and Merchants. The list has not been definitely decided upon; for there is still a chance that the Selby Shoe Co. will place a team in the league and an outside chance that other industries may decide to enter teams. However, this will positively be decided upon at a very early date, although it would occasion no surprise should the season open with the six clubs above named forming the league.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Lingels, Lorey, Cropper, Belcher, Cropper, Barber and Goode, representing the Standard, Selby, Merchants, Vulcan Last, Excelsior and N. & W. was named to meet at the office of the Labor Review, room 402 Massillon Temple, tonight, Thursday at 7:30 o'clock to formulate being the consensus of opinion that the league will be operated. It is also likely that the committee will decide as to the player limit, if he believed the people of Portsmouth should be allowed more than 14 players after the first of June. The fans will be pleased to learn that a movement is on foot to erect additional grand stand room. The seats will be placed on the embankment in left field and will be of sufficient capacity to accommodate at least 500 people.

It was decided to start the games in May and early June at 5:15 o'clock and after that at 5:30. Those present were of the opinion that arrangements could easily be made to get all the players on the field at that time.

President Courty was much elated over the interest displayed in the meeting. He stated at the outset that he believed the people of Portsmouth were practically a unit for baseball. He stated that he knew the people wanted it and that the city needed it.

Fred Lorey, representing the Selby Shoe Co., stated that while it looked as though the company would not be represented, that the league could count upon his services in any capacity he was able to serve. This spirit was the dominant factor in the meeting, and Mr. Lorey was made to feel that he would be taken at his word for he was instantly made chairman of the schedule committee.

The plan of selling season passes was agreed upon without a single dissenting vote. President Courty stated that there was a nice little nest egg in the treasury—not more than one hundred dollars, which shows that the league, in a financial way is able to take care of its affairs. The liberal patronage of the fans and the freedom with which they purchased tickets during the past three years is a good omen for the assured success of the league this year.

Immediately upon the report of the committee on rules, President Courty will call a meeting, at which time a schedule will be adopted and orders issued for the placing of the grounds in tip top shape for the opening game of the season. A new backstop will be erected, one that will be quite an improvement over the ones that have graced the spot behind the bat in the past.

All in all, matters look quite rosy indeed, and as stated, the league will open on the evening of May 15, and the fans assured of fast, even, aggressive baseball. Judging from reports heard on the sidelines, the teams will be evenly balanced, and the games fully as fast as last year. The fact that the Selby plant, Selby and maybe Selby will not play teams in the league there will be a wealth of players on the market and the clubs easily recruited to equal strength.

Mr. Keller, who was present, stated that it was the purpose of the N. & W. boys to trot forth in brand new uniforms which shows the Redforders will be backed to the limit. The Merchants will also have new suits.

Miss Jessie Howard, who has been employed in Ironton has returned to this city. She resides on Campbell street.

Ironton Nailers Here Next Sunday

Manager Pete Meyers of the Nailers has issued orders for his entire squad to report at the park tomorrow and mark the beginning of a four days' seige of practice in preparation with the game which comes off at Portsmouth next Sunday in the meeting with Gabe's All Stars.

The Nailers' manager considers this game as probably the most important of the season and it will no doubt be one of the hardest on their schedule. William Gableman, manager of the Portsmouth team, is known in baseball circles as Gabe has developed a great team and has had them practicing for the past month with the Lansing, Mich. Central League club which trained there this season. They played the leaguers a farewell game last Sunday and before a large crowd lost 4 to 0. The town has become greatly enthused over baseball this season, due to the fact that the Central Leaguers stirred up a great interest and drew some large crowds, and this will be their first game of the season against a semi-pro club—Irontonians.

CLOTHING PRICES ARE GOING HIGHER

New Tariff Bill to Bring a Big Increase

New Tariff Means Higher Range of Prices.—That a much higher range of prices will follow the enactment into a law of the proposed new tariff bill was the opinion expressed in the market yesterday. The provisions protecting raw materials are so extensive that their ramifications are very marked, indeed, and it must, of necessity, follow that the price attitude of the market will follow the course which this bill will establish. It is the belief of piece goods men that wool men will "sit tight" on their established level, and that if anything, prices will go to new and higher levels, and that this will be followed all through the line up to clothing.—Daily News Record, New York, Apr. 14, 1922.

Do you remember our campaign, two years ago, urging you NOT to buy clothes?

We advise and urge you to BUY NOW—order your clothes today and beat the rising prices.

Our guaranteed "Virgin Wool" fabrics were bought before the advance. It will be to your advantage to have your clothes made to your order now, by the "UNITED."

THE RAINBOW OF PROMISE

THINGS are looking up the world over. Signs are multiplying that humanity at large is returning to what is denominated as a normal base.

It is not heard that the revolution in China is bringing on a crisis to the rest of the earth. May day did not produce one either of a truth it was the most peaceful one Europe has known since the designation was invented.

There is a feeling, that even should the Genoa conference not accomplish anything of definite magnitude, it will yet prove a far step to an early adjusting of the turmoil among the contending nations.

Here in America conditions are improving and the outlook awakens a hopeful and cheering spirit that is in itself a most decided gain.

Chief of all is, though, that plans are developing that will bring order out of chaos in Russia and France will be induced to recede from her extremely hostile and blocking attitude towards Germany.

Yes, brethren, things are working around all right, slow, to be true, but still certainly and again it will appear that, after all, this is a pretty good old world to live in.

PAYS A HEAVY PENALTY

A preacher in Oklahoma has found that notoriety, when brought with gross violation of the decencies, does not pay.

Last summer, he made a jest of the serious responsibilities of marriage by performing a ceremony in a pool, he and the couple, with the attendants, being clad in the scantiest of bathing suits.

It was a great advertising stunt and so were the results great. A very proper protest went up from his co-workers of the cloth and he was summoned to answer before the governing body of his church to show cause why his ministerial powers should not be annulled. This wasn't settled before a body of men seized him of a night, carried him far out into the country and when they left him he had a broken leg. Now to put the final cap on the parents of the girl, who was the bride in this parody upon a solemn institution, are suing to have the marriage declared null and void, while the congregation is split in violent factions.

But with only a broken leg and possible unfrocking the preacher comes out of the affair with less than he deserves. There isn't any physical and financial fate too severe for him whose duty it being to impress upon bride and groom the dignity and inviolability of marriage, joins them in a manner that would humiliate a baboon.

SOME ASTONISHING FIGURES

FIGURES gathered by a church federation show that in fifty counties in Ohio there are 637 abandoned churches. It is certain the number in all the counties will run far over a thousand.

Equally surprising anything startling is the estimate that only forty percent of the population of the state is affiliated with any denomination.

These deplorable conditions grow largely out of the fact that too many communities were overcrowded with churches. Sect rivalry was more fervid that conviction in religion and the communities set up too many places of worship for which there was and could be no adequate support. As the cost of maintaining them mounted zeal grew less and in profusion grew abandonment, the migration from the rural precincts to the towns being a contributory factor.

A deplorable outgrowth of the situation is that the people, at heart, want churches and as a result all sorts of new sects are springing up "in the sticks", and finding a considerable following.

It used to be assumed the country was the religious backbone of the nation, but now it is in the cities that the churches are holding their own, and unless these grasp the real gravity of the situation and furnish both the idea and the means by which worship can be brought back to the farm, good men see the day when Ohio will be classed as a heathen state, anywise one that no longer gives reverence to God.

CONSUMING OUR COTTON

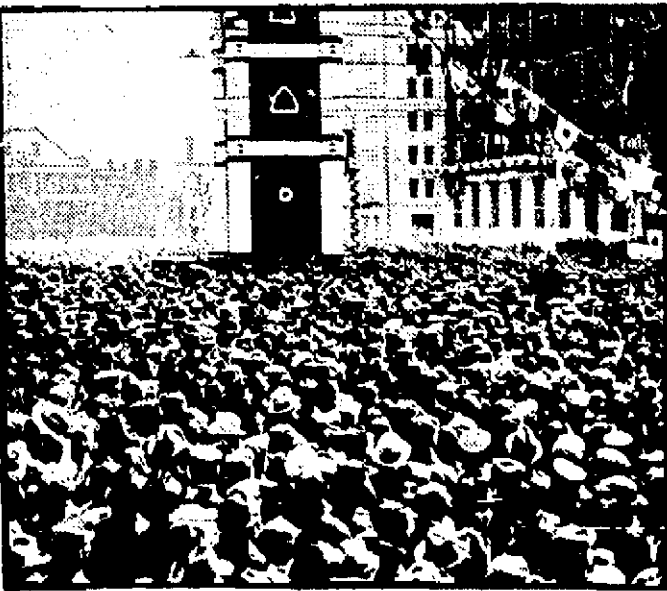

THE increasing proportion of our cotton crop being manufactured here in America is alarming British spinners, who fear the day when America will need all its own cotton for its own mills. The decrease in American crops in late years may not mark the limit of our production, but it is not believed it will increase greatly. One British spinner laments that "the American farmer will no longer continue to allow his wife and children to work in the fields and with such fantastic ideas an increase in American cotton acreage cannot be expected.

So the British spinners, with their Empire cotton growing committee, have been exploring the possibilities of increased production in the cotton-growing sections of the empire. Egypt, however, has shown a declining crop and the change of government is a further doubt. They have therefore, turned to other likely fields even outside the empire, Brazil, for instance. Brazil was the mother of "Sea Island," the finest type of cotton, and British enterprises hope to develop a sufficient supply there to offset the potential loss of the American crop.

The soviet is willing to do anything in order to get a loan. One whose credit is shaky is likely to bid high.

In asking a 15-year moratorium, the bolsheviks make certain that they will not have to pay Russia's debts.

THE BIBLE IN PICTURES AND TEXT

By HELEN E. OHRENSCHALL

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE EGYPTIANS

THE Egyptians pursued the children of Israel into the midst of the sea; Pharaoh, his horses, his chariots, and his horsemen. The Lord looked through the pillar of cloud and made the wheels of their chariots come off. The Egyptians were troubled, for they saw the Lord with the children of Israel. Again the Lord told Moses to stretch forth his hand over the sea. The sea returned and covered the chariots and horsemen. Not one of them remained. Thus the Lord saved Israel and the people feared and believed the Lord and his servant Moses.

New York-Day-By-Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 4.—In the late afternoon Broadway's "lilies of the field" eddy into the side street food caravansaries to leaven dalliance with food. It is the hour to forget yesterday and its sad mistakes and brighten minds for evening adventures to come.

Youth turned sour—the hollow mockery of shallow pleasures and the artificial spewing of vain regrets. The period when the gentle Salvation Army lassie is received without opprobrious jest. The White Way's glamour has become as sickly pale as the phosphorescence of a rotting fish. She sat at a table watching the door. Bobbed hair was topped with an Egyptian turban and above-the-knee skirts revealed butterfles clocked in dashing sheer hose. He came, a plump, rat-faced type that seems to be bred in a hideous night life.

He sat down across from her, a cigarette hanging from sullen lips. What he said made her laugh—a forced, high-pitched laugh—and he struck her sharply with the back of his hand. "Try to laugh out of that!" he growled. And she smiled at him through wet eyes. As he walked away she opened a tarnished vanity case containing a hypodermic needle.

At another table sat "twins" not by birth, but for fashion's sake. "I wish that dumb Ike would hurry the show," she said. "This is my seventh cigarette and they make me toppy without food. Why did we have to run out of gin? Imagine me the way I feel trying to act glad to dine with a smelt faced brush ape from Kansas."

The striving to retain the priceless gift of youth is expressed in baby heels, 10-year-old millinery and frocks. Once youth's aura is lost it is the end of the journey. It was not such poor philosophy expounded in one of the breakfast haunts the other afternoon.

A plain clothes man, known to Tenderloin hallutes, drifted in. Coffee had been finished. "Well, girls," he said lightly, "where do you go from here?"

One painted little doll stood up, reached a bit unsteadily for her coat and replied: "We came from nothing and it's my guess we are going back again."

An actor came out of a booking office on Seventh avenue and met a fellow player. "I have just signed a contract," said the first. "What salarary do you suppose they're going to pay me?"

"Half," replied the second. "Whadda you mean 'half'?" "Just half what you're going to tell me."

Forty-Second Street is getting ready for an elevated morning sidewalk which it is hoped will relieve pedestrian traffic. If the plan works out it will be the beginning of a network of moving sidewalks in the shopping district. Just now at Forty-Second street and Fifth Avenue there are 12 traffic policemen, aside from the signal tower officer, and yet it has been found impossible to handle the crush of traffic in the morning and evening rush.

Wall Street is sniffling again. Clerks who have been given indefinite leaves of absence have been called back to their posts. Whatever may be said of Wall Street, it is an unfailing barometer of business conditions and just now it is registering prosperity. There is no pessimism and as a rule Wall Street is over pessimistic.
